

Module 1 Quiz

Quiz Instructions

Reminder: In order to pass this training, you must score at least 80% on this quiz.

The following are some questions to test your knowledge of Module 1. As a reminder, the learning objectives of Module 1 are:

- Define the concept of IP
- Identify and distinguish the most common forms of IP rights
- Explain the criteria for obtaining each type of IP right
- Describe the protection that each form of IP rights provides

Quiz

1. Which one statement below about IP is not true?
 - A. IP is only important for large companies.
 - B. IP can be defined as creations of the mind.
 - C. IP can be owned.
 - D. IP is considered an intangible asset.
2. A business method may be patentable if it comprises a practical or physical application.
 - a. True
 - b. False
3. Which one statement below about copyright protection in Canada is true?
 - a. Copyright protection is automatically granted once an original work is created in a fixed form
 - b. Copyright is granted after an application has been approved
 - c. The copyright symbol is mandatory to show protection
 - d. Protection ends when the author dies
4. In Canada, you must register your trademark in order to have any protection.
 - a. True
 - b. False
5. Which one statement about Industrial Design rights in Canada below is not true?
 - a. Obtaining Industrial Design rights requires examination and registration.
 - b. Industrial designs can protect a distinctive pattern applied to a product.
 - c. An application for an Industrial Design must explain how the design/shape affects function.

d. Industrial Designs can protect the shape and configuration of a product.